Happiness is the only thing that doubles when you share it...

... that's exactly what we want to offer you with our sharing dishes.
Whether for two, in a small gathering, or with a group of good friends:

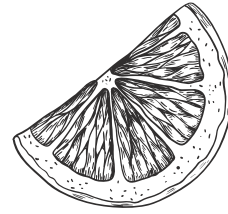

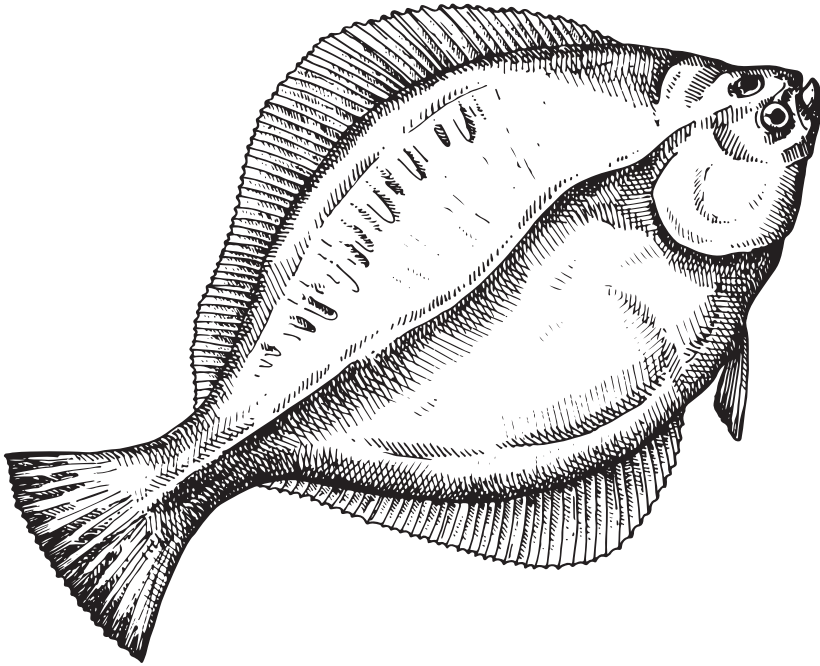

enjoying together makes every moment even more beautiful.

Before we begin the preparation, our service will present the fresh fish or juicy steak right at your table. This way, you can see exactly what to expect – an exclusive culinary highlight that will then be refined in our kitchen and prepared for shared enjoyment.

A portrait of Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, an elderly man with grey hair, wearing a dark coat over a white cravat and a patterned vest. He is looking slightly to the right. In the bottom left corner, there is a small inset image of a handwritten document with cursive text.

"Life is too short to drink bad wine."

A stylized, white cursive signature of Johann Wolfgang von Goethe.

Johann Wolfgang von Goethe
German Poet, Politician, and Naturalist

Johann Wolfgang
von Goethe was also guest at the Kanne Deidesheim.

Goethe was a pronounced wine lover. According to tradition, he philosophized about the grape juice over a good drop of wine in our atrium. It is rumored that the famous quote above originated in these walls while enjoying a bottle of "Forster Ungeheuer"—one of his favorite wines.
